The Senators outplayed the Chicagos yesterday at National Park at every point of the game, fielding perfectly and easily outbatting their opponents, and, of course winning, by the score of 8 to 3.

The victory of the Washington club yesterday made the fourth straight for the locals, and if the same stride is continued there is no reason why they should not win many more. Three errors in the last four games is something of a record for the Senators, especially as they have been playing clubs with pennant aspirations.

Sir Augustus Weyning once more came to the front, and although the Chicago players have several hitters of known ability, they were unable to do anything like bunching bingles off of his clever delivery. Weyhing's work yesterday was of the clear-cut, confident order, and he refused to let more than two men walk to first on balls, depending on his support to get him out of tight places. This confidence was never misplaced and the batted balls that got away from the fielders were base hits, pure and simple. Opposing Weyhing on the rubber was Jimmy Callahan, one of the cleverest twirlers in the business, but the Senators twirlers in the business, but the Senators care nothing for reputations these days, and from the very start banged the bail "good and hard." Jimmy twirled under disheartening circumstances, the men back of him playing without spirit and at several stages of the game played stupid ball, Ryan's out, being caught between second and third, giving a good illustration of a first-class player degenerating into a minor leaguer.

The Senators went first to the bat and also scored first-in the second inning on

The Senators went first to the bat and also scored first-in the second inning on Atherton's single to right center, McGuire's bingle into left and Cassidy's drive in the same direction.

Chicago forget to the front in the third inning, giving teyling his only trouncing of the game and scoring two runs. Chance led off with a swift single over third; Callahan hit in the same direction, but for three bases, and Ryan's double sent the twirler over the doveted rubber.

In the fourth the Senators once more assumed the leads tallying twice as a result of a base on balls to Freeman and Cassidy's terrific drive to the left field fence. The Chicagos drew up even in the fifth The Chicagos drew up even in the fifth inning, and again the deadly base on balls was responsible. DeMont walked, stole sec-ond and came home on Chance's single into Both teams were blanked in the sixth and Both teams were blanked in the sixth and seventh inning, and excitement ran high with the scorejited and the end approaching, but the termination was nearer at hand than expected, the eighth furnishing the Senators with enough runs to put the visitors out of the game. Barry singled to right, and although a sacrifice was expected from Bonner, he bunted too hard and the hall landed in the blaschers for a bone. the ball landed in the bleachers for a home run. Then came Atherton with a nice sin-gle to right, McGuire was hit by the pitcher, and on Callahan's wild throw to sec-ond, both runners moved up a base. Free-man then hit for a hard single into left and both runners scored. All this work was done without a single out being registered against the Senators. Cassidy and Weyagainst the Senators. Cassidy and Wey-hing's outs landed Freeman on third and Padden's single sent him home with the fifth run of the inning. The Cowboys made a gallant rally for a minute or two in this inning, but quickly died away without a tally being registered, Four straight, make it five. Weyhing has certainly been a jewel this Mercer will probably pitch today for the Senators and Jack Taylor II or Phyle for the Chicagos.

Chicagos again today.

The Senators go over to Philadelphia for two games tomorrow and Saturday and will have the Quakers at National Park Monday and Tuesday.

The entire credit for the good showing stop was at Irwin's command.

Counting yesterday's game, Atherton has a batting average of .359 and a fielding percentage of .931. Barry, in left for the same time, has hit up to .259 and fielded .952. The latter is constantly getting better, while the former is already plenty good enough for the local "fans."

The friends of Pete Cassidy, the energetic and hard-working first baseman, are glad to see him connecting with the ball so regular of late. Pete had been hitting in hard luck, an injured ankle keeping him from beating out several hits. For the last seven games he has been hitting at a .370 per cent clip, and his fielding has always been good. peen good.
Pitcher Clarke Griffith and Catcher Dono-

Old reliable Jimmy McGuire is working like a Trojan these days. It is something unusual for Jimmy to see the Senators strike a winning streak, and he is deter-mined to do all he can to keep the team in its present stride. His throwing arm is at its best and the way he whips the ball down to third is simply marvelous. Manager McGraw of the Baltimores has released Pitcher Ralph Miller and signed big Bill Hill, recently let go by the Cleve-lands. Hill was considered one of the best year before last, but dissipation doubtless hurt his work. He is taking care of him-in Brooklyn by his carnestness, but his record is very poor compared with Ather-ton's. Jimmy is batting 314 and fielding S12. Hanlon says records don't stand with ness down town has been very good, and besides their team has been winning. When President Young recently visited Baltimore, McGraw and Robinson invited "Uncle Nick" and Manager Burns of the Chicagos to an elaborate spread at the Rennert. It is whispered that the league's president gave "Mugsy" a little fatherly advice on aggressive ball playing, but also assured him that he is one of the finest little fellows playing ball.

"Kid" Carsey and "Jack" Stivetts, two of the Cleveland club pitchers, and Catcher Zimmer were given a ten-day notice of release yesterday. As these players have been doing good work, it is evident that retrenchment is the order of the day with retrenchment is the order of the day with Frank de H. Robison, the owned of the Hugh Jennings is practicing daily with the Brooklyns and his throwing arm seems as good as ever. Manager Hanlon, how-ever, has wisely decided to take no chances on Jenning's arm until it is absolutely nec-essary. His present combination has been winning right along, and until one of the infielders shows a slump in his work Jen-nings will do bench duty. During one of the last Chicago games at Baltimore somebody asked Jimmy Ryan who was going to do the twirling act that afternoon. "Twirl," says Jimmy. "How do I know? How does Burns know? In the old days you told a pitcher 'go work,' and he worked. These days he pitches when he feels good and plenty. We didn't have sore arms those days. Nothing short of a broken arm kept 'em loose."

Today Tom Burns' Rough Riders, who seem to have struck a winning clip with a vengeance, will move over to the national capital and tackle Arthur Irwin's in-andouters. Those Senators are a funny lot. They are very bad most of the time, but occasionally they take a brace and beat the best of them. Burns' players have fully revenged themselves on the Phillies and the Birds for the scandalous treatment dealt out by these teams to the locals on the west side lot, and now it's up to them to get even with the Senators, who upset all the dopebook calculations by taking three games out of four from the Orphans on their own lot.—Tuesday's Chicago Journal.
